

Hello, gentle listener! The time for the 1st Annual Golden Axies is fast approaching! Well, it's approaching at the same speed as everything else. But it's approaching! And that means we need you to nominate stuff. This is the official-as-crap nomination sheet for this year. Now I'll take a second to explain.

Below you will find a list of every show that ended its run via cruel network cancellation in the year 2008. All you have to do is e-mail us your picks for each category. You may include up to 3 nominees for each category, but it's fine to include less if you're torn on the issue. We will tally up the nominees by assigning 5 points to your top pick, 3 to your second, and 1 to your third. After we've added up all the points, we will announce the top 3 nominees in each category, at which point you will get to vote for the overall winner! Have you ever been this excited? No!

So, here are the categories:

- Most Deserved Cancellation of a Comedy
- Least Deserved Cancellation of a Comedy
- Most Deserved Cancellation of a Drama
- Least Deserved Cancellation of a Drama
- Most Deserved Cancellation of a Reality/Game Show
- Least Deserved Cancellation of a Reality/Game Show
- Most Easily-Mocked Title – show title easiest to make a cancellation joke about
- Too Little, Too Late – single-season show of any genre with the best premise
- Really?! – single-season show of any genre with the worst premise
- The Fox Broadcasting Award for Most Idiotic Network

There they are! Please send in your nominees by Sunday, December 7th. This show can't go on without you, so don't screw us on this!

Remember, the e-mail address is mail@axedpodcast.com. Happy voting, America and other countries!
